

Register Now
FREE Training

Transition from IDEA Part C to B: Helping Families and Young Children

Self-Paced
Online
Module

4-Hour
In-Person
Facilitation

Center for the Young Child

A two-part training for everyone involved in planning transitions for young children. Everyone will:

- Understand the transition process, and cross-agency rules and requirements
- Learn best practices to improve transitions for staff, children, and families
- Work together with involved agencies to improve Interagency Agreements and cross-agency collaboration
- Develop the foundation for dynamic ongoing partnerships necessary for high quality transitions

DODD Continuing Professional Development Units and Ohio Approved Credits Available

Register: ocali.org/project/ctobtrainingopportunity

“The shared experience of creating the IAA was helpful in understanding the requirements that our partner agencies face.”

“After participating in the C-B trainings, I’m much more confident talking with families about transition.”

Online Learning Module

This two-hour self-paced online learning module is designed to allow participants to view the material at their convenience. The module will describe the steps in the transition process and look at the roles and responsibilities of Part C and Part B professionals.

Interagency Agreement (IAA) Collaborative Facilitation

After completing the self-paced online module, the 4-hour in-person Interagency Agreement Collaborative Facilitation provides the opportunity to develop a comprehensive Interagency Agreement with local agencies and other community and early care education providers. Because of the collaborative nature of this facilitation, representatives of local Part C Early Intervention, local education agencies providing Part B preschool services, and Head Start agencies are required to attend together.

More than sixty-one percent of Ohio counties (53 counties) have completed the Transition from IDEA Part C to B training series

Participants either “strongly agreed” or “agreed” that the training was helpful to them as part of their work